Frank Gehry's New Dream Home

As mentioned in an April 2019 AD article, legendary architect Frank Gehry's striking late-1970s Santa Monica residence helped cement his name. Flash-forward some four decades, and Gehry was ready to share with this magazine his new California dream home. Filled with warm wooden beams, which graced the issue's cover, the structure was a knockout. Its kitchen, seen above, has a similar look due to its Douglas fir plywood cabinets. The tile floor sports a red, white, and blue tessellated pattern from Granada Tile, the red echoed in the knobs on a large Wolf range.
