← GIVE THANKS

In today's digital age, there's nothing sweeter than receiving a handwritten thank you note. This women-owned business prints their stationery on Forest Stewardship Council® certified cardstock, meaning it's made of responsibly-sourced wood fiber. $19; adelfi.co

↑ JUST A SPRITZ

Originally developed to speed up healing times for post-dermatological procedures, this once-daily facial spray removes bacteria quickly and reduces inflammation and redness without stripping the skin. $54; cellerx.com

↑ FUNNY FOOD

Though director and actor Eric Wareheim is best known for his comedy chops, he's traveled the globe on a culinary adventure, learning from top chefs and sommeliers along the way. With an entire chapter on "circle" foods (pizza, burgers, tacos), Foodheim will be a go-to in my kitchen. $35; penguinrandomhouse.com

↓ GUIDING LIGHT

My favorite collection at High Point Market this summer (it's like Fashion Week for furniture) was the new outdoor lighting from Regina Andrew Detroit. This lantern would be so chic on a covered patio! $362.50; reginaandrew.com

↑ GLOW ON

I use this every evening! Wick is a portable fixture that blends the romance of candlelight with the function of a flashlight. To turn on or adjust the intensity, just tap the top. $149; graypants.com

✓ BRING RUE HOME

I am so thrilled to announce our new candle collection, developed in partnership with FAVOR. We created two vibrant fragrances: CTRL+ALT+DEL will "smudge" out any bad vibes with white sage and keep you calm with lavender. ON THE HOUSE has cactus flower and jade—the positive, prosperous scent feels like the fragrance equivalent of someone picking up your tab. $48; infavorof.com

Editor's Picks

Each month, I'm introduced to hundreds of fabulous finds—from cool home accessories to beauty products that change the game. Consider this the crème de la crème!

CHIME IN

This handcrafted ceramic art installation from interior designer Alexis Garret and artist Nicole Novena is made with natural materials like clay, jute rope, and leather, CHIME adds organic dimension to any space. (See it again on pg. 58!) alexisgarret.com

new discoveries

↑ CHECK IT

Morrow Soft Goods is launching a new collection of hand-knotted rugs and graphic accessories this fall. The Azia shag rug in an earthy cocoa color checks all the boxes for me. morrowsoftgoods.com

↑ COOL KIDS

With years of experience working in the New York City fashion and art worlds, Alexandra Willkie has intrinsic good taste. Her new shop features collections for mother and child from small, sustainable, and ethical brands, helping you to celebrate life's little joys with your little ones. shopwillkies.com

↑ LIMITLESS STYLE

Granada Tile's brand-new collection, Olvera, is cement tile's answer to stone, terra-cotta, and Saltillo. The style possibilities are endless: 68 shapes and patterns, 29 new colors, and 3 texture options. granadatile.com

GIN IN THE GARDEN

Located on the rooftop of the AC Hotel in Greenville, South Carolina, Juniper was inspired by the concept of an "intoxicating garden." The town has been on my travel list for their impressive arts scene, but I may have to add a mixology class in the Gin Room to my itinerary! junipergv1.com

← HERE'S TO HERRINGBONE

Stuga works with Scandinavia's most innovative manufacturers to create sustainably harvested, crafted, and engineered floors that can be at your door within a week. Their new pre-finished herringbone collections are a cost-effective way to bring the popular flooring trend in to your home. stugastudio.com

↓ WORK OF ART

Thomas Pheasant dreamed up his latest collection for McGuire Furniture during his travels through Japan in early 2020. On the Strand lounge chair, a white-oak frame with abaca-rope backing is truly stunning. mcguirefurniture.com

← FORM AND FUNCTION

Ceramicist Danny Kaplan was raised in Aix-en-Provence, France. The region's traditional pottery—combined with the vivid colors and organic textures at local farmers markets he visited throughout his youth—inspire his work, which includes lighting. $1,850; lawsonfenning.com

← FIRE IT UP

A discovery from my brother and sister-in-law, who are far better in the kitchen than I am, OM SÒM is Vietnamese phrase meaning noisy, rambunctious, raucous. These meal starter kits bring “proud, loud Asian flavors to your fingertips any day of the week.” $29; omson.com

↗ OPEN, POUR, SIP

Craft cocktails made easy. With Portland, Oregon’s Straightaway Cocktails, you just need to add ice. (Or make it really easy and use a straw.) Choose your favorite tittle or pick up a sample box to try them all. straightawaycocktails.com

↑ WHAT A DISH

Material made a splash with their kitchen essentials, but they’re finally setting the table. Designed with Hye Rin Yang, a South Korean female ceramicist, the pieces are modern heirlooms yet durable enough for everyday use. Starting at $60; materialkitchen.com

↑ LASTING LUXURY

Based in Litchfield County, Connecticut, Anastasio Home creates limited-run home accessories and upcycled luxury goods. Founded this year by Gabriela Anastasio Holloway, their trays are my favorite 2021 decor discovery. $145; anastasiohome.com

↑ ON THE SIDE

How cute is this accent table from Universal? It’s part of their Coastal Living Outdoor Collection, so its speckled gray finish can withstand the elements. universalfurniture.com

SISTER STYLE

South African decor brand Mo’s Crib specializes in handmade, sustainable, and ethical homewares, using reclaimed PVC water pipes that are collected by hand from landfills and construction sites. Founded by sisters Mo and Michelle Mokone in 2016, the company is 100% funded and run—and all products are handcrafted—by African women. Starting at $22; moscrib.com

↓ DAILY DOSE

Carrots are a healthy, vitamin-packed snack, but did you know they have cosmetic benefits too? This face oil boosts radiance and helps with hydration—and the price can’t be beat. $13.40; us.typology.com

↑ RAINBOW BRIGHT

Fashion blogger Julie Sariñana (aka @sincerelyjules) launched Color Dept, a vegan, cruelty-free, and longwearing nail polish that comes in joyful shades like Avo Guac and Morning Squeeze. $10; colordept.com
